

Freedom of Information (FOI) Day is an annual event on or near March 16, the birthday of James Madison, who is widely regarded as the Father of the Constitution and the foremost advocate for openness in government.

Each year, the James Madison Award and the Eileen Cooke State & Local Madison Award are presented by ALA on Freedom of Information Day to recognize those individuals or groups that have championed, protected, and promoted public access to government information and the public's right to know. ~ ALA

<http://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom>

Is it time to look at access, diversity and privacy at YOUR Library?

Intellectual Freedom and Youth: Practical and Philosophical Considerations-Knowledge Quest

Review your collections and policies and let your community know just how your library feels about Intellectual Freedom.

